

NOAA in Mukilteo

An evening with scientists working at NOAA's Mukilteo Research Station

MAR 18, 2019

Doors open at 5:30pm

Talks 6:00-7:25pm

Chat with scientists
5:30-6:00pm & 7:35-8:30pm

ROSEHILL

COMMUNITY CENTER

304 Lincoln Avenue

Mukilteo, WA 98275

4 2 5 . 3 5 5 . 2 5 1 4

AGENDA

5:30pm Doors open & chat with scientists

6:00pm Welcome & agenda overview | Paul McElhany,
Mukilteo Research Station Chief, NOAA Fisheries

6:05pm Opening remarks | Jennifer Gregerson, Mayor of Mukilteo

6:15pm NOAA's future at Mukilteo | Kevin Werner,
Director of NOAA's Northwest Fisheries Science Center

6:25pm Short talks

- Ocean acidification & Pacific salmon | Chase Williams
- Urban runoff & the nearshore marine environment | Nat Scholz
- From the mountains to the mudflats | Todd Bennett
- Fish behavior & sustainable aquaculture | Frank Sommers

7:25pm Poster pitch | poster authors will introduce themselves
& say a couple of sentences about their poster

7:35pm Closing remarks | Paul McElhany

7:35 - 8:30pm Poster session & chat with scientists

Effects of ocean acidification on Dungeness crab | Veterans
Conservation Corps Program | Culturing Puget Sound rockfish
| NWFSC education & outreach | Light trap monitoring of Puget
Sound crab populations | Environmental change & Puget Sound bivalves | Ocean acidification effects on krill | Recovery in the Snohomish estuary | Monitoring Elwha dam removal | Teacher in the lab | Ocean conditions & Chum salmon | NOAA Ocean
Acidification Program | Pacific Lamprey oxygen consumption rates
& hypoxia tolerance | Stock origins of Pacific Herring in the Strait of Juan de Fuca | Aquaculture | An Elwha September Shangri-La

NOAA FISHERIES